

Positive All Around

Quotes and vibrant colors to keep everyone smiling around the school.

White walls, white tile floors, white ceilings with rectangle lights, and about half of them have bulbs out, which contrasts the ton of students with colorful clothing. Courtland High School has wonderful vibrant people, with such creative mindsets. So why not bring the school more to life with a touch of color?

A group of staff members and students began to share ideas to create a more positive atmosphere this year in our school. The Renaissance Club has a vision to make Courtland a more welcoming school for everyone who attends or walks through the doors of our building. The Bathroom Beautification committee, paints and makes the bathrooms a happier place to use. They are working hard on coming up with the quotes, and better yet the images to go along with the quote. These quotes were created with hopes of brightening students days. Students are also starting to sign the bathroom walls and adding a little touch of their own. It doesn't stop there, there are quotes on the hallways, on what used to be bare walls.

Ariana Barriga ('18) says, "I think they make the bathrooms prettier and have more of a positive vibe." In which is what their goal was to do. Barnes, CHS english 12 teacher, states "As a part of my love with the renaissance, we [the club] went to other schools and their bathrooms were decorated very pretty and they led us to come up with a committee, the beautification committee, as a part of renaissance." The bathrooms also show the hard work and effort the students in the Renaissance Club have put forth. Brooke Lamberton ('16) also said, "They make me feel more positive for sure." This kind of reaction is exactly what the Renaissance Club was wanting. These make overs have brought positivity and cheer to Courtland.

The Renaissance Club started something that now can't be stopped. Students and faculty love this new vibrant side of Courtland. It shows the confident yet very courageous side of our student body. It keeps everyone smiling and upbeat allowing our school to shine like our students.
