

Lights out, Knights out

The cougars shut-out the Knights at the homecoming game.

by Arthur Street
Staff Reporter

The roar of the crowd, the gleaming lights in the dark sky and the smell of grilled hot dogs, it must be typical Friday night football at CHS. However, this Friday night was extra special, with it being Courtland's Homecoming game, so as you'd believe all eyes were set on the home team to secure yet another win.

Claiming the first 2 complete passes and downs of the night, running back Zin White ('19) strategically and without hesitation maneuvered his way through the Spotsylvania High Knights' defense. Not too long after, running back Dakota Woodward ('17) made the first 2 touchdowns of the night, and with the extra points from 2 perfect field goals, the score was 15-0. Afterwards, Spotsylvania High received a yellow flag and a loss of one yard, then proceeded to take a time out. Tight end Christian Coleman ('17) completed an amazing 35 yard pass, bringing the Cougars closer to the end zone. Next, Zin White ('19) made a touchdown, and with the addition of another successful field goal, the score was now 22-0 and the end of the first quarter.

Offensive line Jakob Vollbrecht ('18) preparing to snap the football to Quarter back James Banks ('18).

Just as the second quarter started, running back DJ Jones ('19) scored two touchdowns in a row, and once again with 2 more successful field goals, the current score was now 36-0. The rest of the second quarter proved to be an intense match of brute strength between the Cougars and Knights with no more points made, thus ending the 1st half of the game.

The Courtland Student Section during it's 'Black Out' for the Homecoming game.

The second half of the game was more entertaining than the first, with both teams going at each other with all of their strength. This proved to be the Knights' down bringing when Christian Coleman ('17) was able to make his way through the Knight's defense like a hot knife through butter, scoring 4 touchdowns in the final half of the game ending with a final score of Courtland-64 and Spotsy-0.

All photos by Arthur Street