

Focused Undergraduates

Sophomore year seems to be harder than it was envisioned for these eager students.

by Telicia Manigo

Staff Reporter

Kam'Ron Taylor ('19)

Grab your backpacks because the class of 2019 is working up a storm! More is expected and responsibility is a major key. Luckily some brave students spoke up and allowed their input on how they feel about the 2016-17 school year and its outlook.

Reagan Shannon ('19)

Taylor Deane (19')

All agreed when saying classwork, homework, and balancing time was an issue. And since this class is so scholastically driven a majority of the sophomores have advanced and AP courses on their plates. Everyone announced their feelings about the difficulty of their classes and the statements weren't as shocking as you think they are. When asked Dominique Jones said, "Heck yeah, the work is harder and there is less time to do stuff. Also adding his cooperation Antwan Johnson('19) said,"Yes, because there is a lot more work and you actually have to try!"

Zin White IV (19')

This class isn't done yet for this topic. Whether it was good, bad, or goofy the learners got their point across describing their feeling about their fellow classmates. Samantha Burns (19') was the first say that this group is both "chill and calm." Although Reagan Shannon (19') had an opposing argument stating that the group was "annoying, boring, loud, and energetic." And Kam'Ron Taylor (19') comes to terms saying that the sophomore class are "studs, tough, and exciting."

Maggie Cavanaugh (19')

Nolan Heren (19')

Before be-school year stories struck the attention 2019. Nolan Heren easiest year.' as well as year.' said by Taylor tech fair and engineer-Maggie Cavanaugh

Samantha Burns ('19)

Antwan Johnson('19)

ginning the 2016-2017 about being a sophomore of some of the class of heard (19'), ' It's the hearing 'It is the longest Deane (19'). Except the ing catches the eye of (19'). Along with Zin who said he cannot wait Prom!

Dominique Jones('19)